

Summary:

The Riksdag welcomes the Commission's work on better regulation and the ambition to introduce more transparency in the legislative process. The Riksdag further notes that the Commission emphasizes that proposals must be accompanied by better justifications, particularly more detailed explanations of how the initiatives relates to the principles of subsidiarity and proportionality. The Committee welcomes the Commission's simplification work and the fact that it specifically intends to pay attention to the rules that affect small and medium-sized businesses and to consider simpler rules for these."
