

Stocktaking of the Commission's 'better regulation' approach

Fields marked with * are mandatory.

Introduction

The European Commission is committed to being 'big on big things' and smaller on things where EU action does not add value. To help to deliver on this commitment, the Commission has put in place a 'better regulation' agenda based on three key pillars: stakeholder engagement throughout the policy cycle; evaluation to ensure that the current body of EU law remains fit for purpose; and impact assessment to ensure that new proposals reach their policy goals in the most efficient way without imposing unnecessary burdens.

Since 2015, the Commission has revamped the 'better regulation' framework to make it more effective.

The results of this revision include:

- further efforts to increase the transparency, legitimacy and accountability of our work, in particular as regards the consultation process throughout the policy cycle, including the possibility for the general public and interested parties to provide feedback on proposals, and increased availability of languages
- an independent Regulatory Scrutiny Board which checks the quality of the Commission's impact assessments and major evaluations
- a new online tool – 'Lighten the Load' – which enables those affected by EU legislation to put forward their views, plus any criticisms and ideas for improvement they may have, so as to simplify and improve existing EU laws
- a platform of experts including representatives of NGOs, interest groups and national governments – the 'REFIT platform' – to advise the Commission on how to make EU laws simpler and less costly without watering down the intended objectives

The Commission is aware that further improvements can be made. We would like to hear your views on those aspects of the better regulation framework that work well and those where you think it should be improved.

The results of this public consultation will inform the Commission stocktaking of its better regulation framework which it will publish in Spring 2019.

The questionnaire is divided into 7 short sections. Most questions are optional. You can upload a position paper at the end should you so wish.

2. Consulting the public and interested parties

When preparing new or revising existing laws and regulations, the Commission asks interested parties for their ideas and views as well as for factual information. The idea is to give those likely to be affected by EU policies an opportunity to be heard.

Members of the public and representatives of interest groups can provide input throughout the policymaking process in a number of ways (all of which you can find on the Commission's central consultation page, Have Your Say). They can:

- comment on roadmaps and inception impact assessments (these documents present the Commission's initial ideas, announce the launch of an impact assessment process or explain its absence and also provide an overview of the planned public and targeted consultations)
- participate in public consultations
- comment on legislative proposals
- comment on draft delegated or implementing acts (these acts complement existing laws to update them or to help implement them)
- suggest ways to improve existing laws, via the 'Lighten the Load' tool

Individual Commission departments also regularly hold targeted consultations of stakeholders through events, working groups, or questionnaires published on the respective department's web page or sent to experts.

The aim of this section is to identify what parts of the stakeholder consultation processes are working well and find out how the Commission can improve them further.

34 Are roadmaps and inception impact assessments useful to help you prepare your participation in the policy-making process?

- Yes, fully
- Yes, mostly
- Partially
- No, mostly not

3. Evaluating existing EU laws

The Commission regularly assesses how well existing EU measures - laws, policies, and financial programmes, for instance – are working.

An assessment of existing EU measures is called an 'evaluation' (and, where several EU measures are examined collectively, a 'fitness check'). Assessments enable the Commission to decide whether particular EU measures are still justified, or whether they need to be simplified or improved (e.g. to cut out unnecessary regulatory costs or inconsistencies, adapt measures to take account of new developments, make them work better, or even repeal them).

The REFIT programme and the REFIT platform help the Commission identify the areas where it needs to focus its efforts, to simplify legislation and reduce any burdens caused by EU action. The state of play of such initiatives are tracked by the REFIT Scoreboard.

43 Are you satisfied with the following aspects of the Commission's evaluations?

4. Assessing new Commission proposals

Impact assessments support the Commission's policy proposals. They assess:

- the pros and cons of a range of policy options designed to address one or more problems, using evidence from previous evaluations and consultations
- conformity with the principles of subsidiarity and proportionality
- potential for simplifying existing legislation and cutting any unnecessary regulatory costs, in line with the Commission's REFIT programme.

All impact assessments are published on a central web page. Members of the public and people with a special interest in the issue at hand can comment on impact assessments accompanying legislative proposals.

48 Are you satisfied with the following aspects of the Commission's impact assessments?

5. Scrutinising the quality of impact assessments and evaluations

The Regulatory Scrutiny Board (RSB) became operational in 2016. It is appointed by the President of the Commission. It has 7 full-time members, of which 3 are externally recruited. The Board quality controls impact assessments and major evaluations. It ensures that facts and stakeholder views are fairly presented to decision-makers. Its opinions are published.
